OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATIONS.

A movement has begun in the various towns and cities of Western Canada that is calculated to have a profound effect than its promoters imagine. That movement is the old boys' associations that are being formed everywhere. There is the Bruce Old Boys, London Old Boys, Toronto, Peterboro, etc., etc. Old Boys. These associations will form a link between the old and the new sections of our native Canada and create sympathy that will promote an intelligent understanding of the conditions that prevail in the East and West respectively. One practical aim that is engaging the attention of the various associations this summer is to obtain from the railways cheap excursion rates to the East. The object is that those who live in the West may have the same opportunity of travelling eastward that easterners have of coming West. The West can get learn a few things from the East. There is no danger now that the boys who come West will want to remain in the East, because they have a convenient opportunity of visiting the old Quebec or Ontario farm again. The lure of the West is too strong.

A WORKING CANADIAN CLUB.

The Canadian Club of Edmonton has undertaken a laudable work in its effort to arouse civic spirit and to take an active interest in a comprehensive scheme for beautifying the city. The open and free discussion of such projects will go far to mould and crystallize public opinion and create public action. The Edmonton Bulletin suggests that: "The institution of a public library is another question that might be taken up in the 'near future' by the club. At present 'few towns and cities of the province possess public libraries. In this respect the desire of the Alberta Government has outrun public opinion" and has issued what is virtually a "challenge to the municipalities of the province to do something to put 'the means of intellectual enlightenment before the community'."

Both of these channels for Civic Club influence may do much for Edmonton. Both are sound examples of civic patriotism and illustrate the concrete good which follows closely after the formation of such bodies as the Canadian Clubs of our towns and cities.

Of course, such a programme for the Canadian Club of Edmonton has not been undertaken or has been suggested for it might not at all appeal to the Canadian Clubs of other communities. There might be more pressing needs; and it is the genius of the Canadian Club movement that each club is its own master, to suit its programme to the needs or features of the place or the time. It is not impossible that in time there may be a general Federation of Canadian Clubs, but anything which would cramp the local liberty of each organization would be foreign to the general spirit of the movement and inimical to its prosperity and usefulness. If each Canadian Club had as definite and laudable an aim as the Edmonton Club, the movement would spread even more quickly than it has—Toronto News.

GRAIN GROWERS AND THE ROYAL GRAIN COMMISSION.

The prosecution of certain members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange by the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba last fall seems to have borne fruit. At any rate, the farmers of Manitoba are thoroughly aroused by the revelations set forth in the evidence taken in the alleged conspiracy case before Police Magistrate Daly.

A conference of all the Reeves of all the municipalities of Manitoba is called for June 21st and 22nd in the legislative building at Winnipeg to discuss the situation surrounding the handling, storage, sale and transportation of grain and to make recommendations to the provincial and federal governments. Ten amendments to the charter of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange are to be asked for. Dealing in futures or options the Grain Growers want abolished; also amendments in the criminal code in respect to combines and restraint of trade will be asked for. The list in the federal government ownership of line and terminal elevators, reciprocal demurrage and the use of the central as a sale unit.

The discussion of these subjects at the conference will no doubt be productive of good and crystallize public opinion on many questions now in a contentious phase. However, the government is likely to await the report of the Royal Grain Commission before adopting any drastic changes. The information tendered the federal authorities will serve the useful purpose of affording the government a means of checking up the work of the Royal Commission. To introduce any legislation on these matters before the commission's report is submitted would be to publicly discredit the useful work of that body.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with his shrewd political instinct and remarkable talent for great affairs, has held an invaluable position in the fiscal controversy at the Imperial Conference, and has neither entangled himself with the British parties nor exposed himself to serious attack in Canada.

The cartoon in the Toronto News on May 13th portraying the present situation in India and representing John Bull throttling a venous artery is an unworthy bit of caricature that misrepresents the situation. The News is surely not going to reiterate the prejudices and inspire the excess of passion that characterized public opinion in England when the news of the Mutiny reached that country fifty years ago, which led Disraeli to say that it was time to bury the altar of Christ and set up the altar of Moloch.

THE MIRROR OF THE PRESS.

(Winnipeg Telegram.) Federal law, requiring the adoption of conciliatory efforts in advance of a strike or lock-out is absolutely impartial in the protection it extends to employer and employee. It affords equal protection to the general public which usually suffers more than either of the contending interests in the case of strikes that tie up public utilities.

(Toronto News.)

It is no light matter to alter the fiscal system of Britain, upon which the nation's whole commercial fabric has been based for more than half a century, by which all her trading relationships have been adjusted, and which enters practically, if not specifically into all her foreign relations. Men of the type of Morley and Asquith write an eternal law to their economic creed, and are not easily moved by considerations of sentiment and empire. So British free traders are greatly conscious of the huge practical difficulties involved in the reversal of an ancient and settled commercial system. Their whole position commands respect if it does not always carry conviction to the more intrepid and less cautious politicians of the younger British commonwealth.

PREPARING TO BUILD.

Executive of Society of Equity concludes Three Days' Session.

Calgary, May 20.—The three days' session in Calgary of the officers and board of directors of "The Canadian Society of Equity, Limited," has closed. There were present at the session: John M. Moran, president, Edmonton; W. R. Hall, vice president, Strathcona; W. J. Keen, secretary-treasurer, Edmonton; D. B. Wilson, Nampar; A. A. Shaw, Nampar; A. Holsky, Calgary; R. Pearson, Claresholm; J. Sandison, Strathcona; directors.

The meetings were secret, but information was secured to the effect that the object was to consider matters in connection with the building operations of the company, throughout the province. The object for which the company was incorporated was to build and operate elevators, flour and oatmeal mills, creameries, etc., and also to own and operate oilfield utilities. Their chief object for assisting in the marketing of farm produce, securing a reasonable price for the same and also to assist the farmers in securing the supplies necessary for their operations at reasonable prices. At present special regard is given to the construction and operation of elevators, warehouses, etc., to facilitate the shipping of grain.

The affairs of the company are in a flourishing condition, and although only incorporated a few months ago, it has already been of great benefit to the farmers of Alberta. The Canadian Society of Equity has at present a membership of over 2,500 in Alberta, with over 100 unions local in all the provincial farming districts in the province.

TO HARNESS THE SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatoon Has a Power Development Plan. Engineer Mitchell to Report.

Saskatoon, Sask., May 20.—Council have engaged C. H. Mitchell, hydro electric engineer, to proceed with the investigation into the possibilities of producing power in the Saskatchewan river, and provide an estimate of the cost of carrying out the undertaking. Mr. Mitchell has found a site that appears to him as being suitable for profitable harnessing. The site is nearly fourteen miles down the river at a point visited yesterday by the engineer, Mayor Wilson, Ald. Jordan and Jas. Leslie. The place, says Mitchell, lends itself for such purpose as that for which the investigation was instituted.

Yesterday morning the party set out by river, and several good sites were seen, but the one most attractive is near Clarke's Crossing. Here they found a swift current, a bend in the river, and on one side the bank is quite low, with a couple which presented a favorable spot for diverting the water freely to a channel. The local bank faced favorably to the building of a canal. The whole site looked good, presenting a good site for a power house.

Mr. Mitchell said he would suggest a head of about fifteen feet of water, which he declared would produce 4,000 horse power at theoretical. Ald. Calder raised the question of sand shifting into the canal and the danger of freezing up in winter, and in reply Mr. Mitchell explained that the canal would be higher than the bed of the stream above the dam. The current over the dam would carry most suspended matter, but possibly after a number of years some dredging would be necessary. He did not consider that this dredging would be expensive. In reference to trust from ice, he said that the streams of Saskatchewan were protected by ice and general freezing over, preventing floating ice in serious quantities. For such cases, however, a device to cut some such contingencies could easily be provided.

Mr. Mitchell said that his idea was to utilize only a portion of the power capacity available. He pointed out that whatever the ultimate developments the initial cost would be great, because of the building of the dam. The mayor and Ald. Calder spoke in favor of going ahead to find out what power is available, and to cost, as it was the only way to get the information desired. A resolution authorizing Mr. Mitchell to proceed with the undertaking was carried unanimously.

JAMES OUT OF C.N.R.

D. B. Hanna Appointed General Manager—Fleming to Cline in.

Toronto, May 20.—It is reported today on first class authority that D. B. Hanna has been appointed general manager of the Canadian Northern railway. Mr. Hanna is third vice president. It is also stated that E. A. James will not return to the road's service. Several other changes are being arranged, and R. J. Fleming, manager of the Toronto, street railway, when he returns or small shift way, will soon enter the service of the C.N.R.

Mr. Hanna is a railway man of great experience, having commenced the Canadian railway in Scotland. Coming to this country, he was employed on some of the most important roads with such success that he was the man whom McKenna selected for their main ship 3 1/2 years. He was made third vice president several years ago, and has been in that position continuously since. He will retain the third vice presidency with the general management in the meantime.

To Rush Lake Trade. The management of the road have determined to push lake trade as much as possible this summer, and for this purpose arrangements have been made with the Dominion Navigation company to run the steamer Killarney between Parry Sound and Sault Ste. Marie, calling at intermediate points. The steamer will make bi-weekly trips in each direction, leaving Parry Sound every Wednesday and Saturday, direct connection being made with the trains of the Canadian Northern at Parry Sound. The Killarney will carry freight and passengers.

DR. McINNIS OFF TO YELLOWHEAD

In Search of Timber. He Will Travel 1,000 Miles. His Opinion of Fraser River District

Dr. J. L. McInnis, head of the McInnis Lumber Company, left yesterday on a trip through the Yellowhead Pass and down the Fraser River. He will be absent from the city 10 or 12 weeks, during which time he will make a thorough investigation of the forest and mineral wealth of the country through which he passes. He took eight horses to pack the supplies, and will pick up two old timbers and explore in the persons of "Dave Adams and 'Joe' Brewster at Lac Ste. Anne. Further west at Collette, Lab. they will secure a couple of guides, who will be familiar with the ground to be covered.

The doctor and his party will travel across country, following in the vicinity of the U.T.P. survey line, crossing the Pembina and McLeod rivers to Jasper Pass, about 350 miles west of Edmonton, thence through the Yellowhead Pass and down the Fraser 80 or 100 miles to Tete Jaune Cache and west to Barkerville.

Dr. McInnis is no tenderfoot in the west, and this is not the first trip of the kind he has made through this country. As early as 1884 he made a similar trip through the Fraser River Pass. In 1893 he was over practically the same ground he will cover this season, and in 1895 and 1903 he travelled through the Peace River district and Peace River Pass. There are few men who have such a valuable knowledge of the natural resources of this district.

In reply to queries as to the timber and mineral resources, Doctor McInnis said they were practically unlimited. All that is wanted is the means of transportation. Fabulous treasure awaits the coming of the lines of steel.

He was not a whit surprised at the reported gold strikes in the Yellowhead. There had been many rich finds made in days gone by, all through that section of the Rockies, and several things of value had sprung up, but the advent of the railway through other sections equally rich had drawn the prospectors and miners to them. There are several old mining towns in the vicinity of Quesset Lake and the Fraser which use Adairville, on the C.P.R., as their shipping station and base of supplies. The distance of two to three hundred miles which has to be covered by these miners is a pretty sure indication of the quality of the output.

The opening of this country by the great transcontinental railway system means much to the people of Canada and much to the people of the western prairie cities, in particular, Helicon, Edmonton, and the Rockies are districts rivaling the Edmonton district in fertility, while besides the mineral wealth there are millions of acres of timber lands awaiting the coming of the lumber man.

When buying paint, remember it costs no more than the other brands, and get Martin-Senour 100 per cent. pure paint.

NEWS OF BUSY WEST

VERMILION.

Dr. E. Hayward returned yesterday from a business visit to the north. While at the capital he took a run out to the new oil field at Vermilion and was so impressed with the prospects that he bought a quarter section of land in the Vermilion area. A large party, consisting of several engineers and their assistants, pulled out for their summer work on the G. T. P. south of town last Saturday, after a few days spent in the Bull's Eye. Arrangements have been made with the local government to hold the annual fair of the Vermilion Agricultural Society on October 1st and 2nd instead of on the dates in September fixed by the Alberta Fair Association. Owing to the probability of a late harvest and in order to accommodate the farmers of the district, arrangements have been made with the Department of Agriculture to hold the annual exhibition of the Vermilion Valley and Beaver Lake Agricultural Society at Vancouver, on Thursday and Friday, October 3rd and 4th. A vast improvement in the weather and service on the C.N.R. is noticeable of late. The trains from west and east are now running regularly every day and freight is also moving better, though some of the eight minutes ahead of time come in by freight yet to arrive. Monday's train from Vancouver came in eight minutes ahead of time. James Wilson has rented from Harry Howell his homestead at the corner of three miles east of town. Mr. Wilson's recent arrival was a surprise to the Washington and he brought with him over 100 head of stock, horses and cattle.

LEUDIC.

James Grandy of Edmonton, travelling agent for Delaval cream separators, has purchased the Canadian property from Messrs. Rimmon and Richardson, who have been in the business for many years. Mr. Grandy's family here in June. The board of trade has decided to ask the town council to take steps prohibiting the tying of horses on main street for more than an hour. Hal, Mr. T. Beckie has purchased a two lots on the Light Street and will build a residence. One of the Mounted Police will be stationed at Leudic. A large tent has been erected at a request that Leudic be the new site of the sitting of the next session of the circuit court. Three cars of settlers' effects were shipped to the station here this week. One car came from the shores of Lake Erie, a distance of about 2,500 miles, and was only 12 days on the way.

DIBBURY.

In spite of the present high price of lumber, a great deal of building is being done in town and the contractors state that the number of new buildings to be erected this year will be fully as large as last if not larger. The farmers who look splendid and the farmers should congratulate themselves on their outlook for a prosperous year. A Chamberlain is the first to report to us that he has spring wheat above the ground. Mr. Weber has the excavation started for the mill and is busy drawing the foundation. The mill is to be three stories in height with a basement under the whole building. Five rollers are to be installed.

REGINA.

Mayor Smith in speaking of the defeat of the Springer Eaton tax franchise in Regina largely attributed it to the organized opposition on the part of people interested in its defeat, and he is now in the way of educating the public opinion in the matter. Regina taxpayers have passed by a splendid majority the bylaw authorizing the expenditure of $10,000 on a municipal hospital. Two office buildings aggregating in cost about $100,000 are to be erected this summer on Rose street, directly opposite the new city hall. Both will be handsome buildings with stone fronts and brick fronts, one being built for Mayor Smith and the other for B. H. Williams.

CLDS.

John Wood, M. P. for Canada, states that the minimum average this year for winter wheat will be 20 bushels to the acre. The town of Olds has a 10,000 club at the last meeting of the Local Improvement District, it was decided that only 50 per cent. of the tax should be worked out this year, the balance to be paid in cash.

CANRUE.

A large tent is to be procured and furnished by the town for any case the Health Committee may be called upon to care for. The C. P. E. passed through Canrue last week, and in an interview said that a freight shed for Canrue was in the estimate and as soon arrangements could be made, it would be erected.

INNISFAIR.

A light horse corps is being formed for Innisfair district and already a considerable number have handed in their names. Excavation for the new school has been commenced. John Wilson, Red Deer, is returning to Innisfair and will open up a blacksmith shop.

CLARESBOLM.

The new church of England is fast nearing completion under the skillful hands of W. C. Miller, the contractor. The town will have a new railway. Harry H. Wannamaker has purchased an up-to-date cement-block factory and has it about installed. On Sunday week the new Presbyterian Church at Leavings was formally opened.

MONROE.

A Monroie lodge has been organized in the town. Owing to ill health, L. D. Shilling was compelled to retire from the management of the Clareholm. Bayne and has sold his interest to A. Wylie, who assumes the editorship of the paper. Mr. Bayne retaining the management. The general policy of the Review will not be changed.

HIGH RIVER.

There is a splendid opening in High River for an up-to-date steam laundry. Speculation is rife in town over the presence of a survey party who are surveying through the town and it is a matter of time that community. There is a great demand for brick and the production is made that there will be a famine in that commodity. The increase in the price of lumber will help the brick trade, inasmuch as it will be cheaper to build a brick than a frame house. The High River brickworks is said to be situated peacefully and they are turning out a very good sample.

MISSIONARY IN OLD IRELAND

John Fluker, Returns From Immigration Campaign in the Emerald Isle

Mr. John Fluker, of Port Saskatchewan, has returned from a three-month tour to Ireland, where he was sent by the Dominion government in the interest of immigration. He left for the old country on February 24th last, arriving at St. John on the 26th, as he was delayed some by heavy snowstorms. He took the steamer immediately, arriving at Liverpool on the 28th of February, after a most delightful passage, with but a couple of days' rough weather.

From Liverpool he went to London, spending four days at the London immigration office. From there he went to Belfast, making that city his headquarters. He spent a few days there interviewing a number of people, all of whom were anxious to learn more of this country.

Market Days Selected. From there he went to Ballinacorney and then to Lurgan, with very satisfactory results; it being market day at the different places he had a good opportunity to interview the people and distribute literature. On the 10th of March, he went to Portadown, and to Inniskillen on the 11th.

This latter place he found to be very difficult to work in, as the people are strongly opposed to immigration. However, he met a number of the people and left literature with them. Londonderry was the next place visited, where he remained three days. Mr. Fluker was much pleased with Londonderry.

Londonderry is interested.

There he found the Canadian government office, where grain and other commodities were on exhibition. He found the people of Londonderry intensely interested in immigration and intensely interested about 100 of the citizens. A great many of them qualified their interest in coming to this country, some this and some next year.

Belfast Visited. He then returned to Belfast for a few days, doing a little advertising and on March 21st went back to Lurgan at the request of a number of interested citizens, meeting with great success, and from there back to Londonderry at the request of some sixty people. From Derry he went to New Stewart, meeting with a great success of opposition, but distributed plenty of literature. On March 19th he went to Coleraine, interviewing about 40 people. From there to Dublin for three days, meeting with great success and making the acquaintance of a number of desirable people, many of whom, indeed, coming to Canada this spring.

In Old Killarney. April 1st he went to Killarney, where he spent a week, but regrets that he did not have time to see the famous lakes, nor to kiss the Blarney Stone, although from what we know of Mr. Fluker, this last was quite unnecessary.

Killarney was the next place visited. It is said that the best class peasantry in the south of Ireland live here. Mr. Fluker was well received and distributed plenty of literature at this point.

Killarney is noted for its beautiful women and girls.

The next place visited was Cahereen, where he found the people exceedingly friendly and much interested in immigration. Kenmare was the next point of interest, and again striking meeting he met numbers of people who gave him good attention and received literature.

One Who Had Seen. In Portadown the people were inclined to think that Mr. Fletcher's account of his country was somewhat exaggerated; but, fortunately, Mr. Fletcher was a young man who had spent three years in Winnipeg, and who was only too pleased to corroborate all of Mr. Fletcher's statements, and assuring the people that his only reason for being there was owing to the invalidism of his mother, whom he hoped would soon be well enough to permit of his return.

Back to Killarney, Mr. Fletcher went, and from there to Listowel, where he found the people very interested. They eagerly accepted literature.

Trails is Visited. From Listowel to Tralee—This latter he found to be a fine busy place, and the people greatly interested, although he was too late in reaching there to be of much use for this year.

From there he went back to Dublin, where he spent a Sunday and attended service in Marion hall, meeting Mr. Robert Hamilton, who gave him very efficient help by introducing him to numbers of desirable people. On the following Monday, he went to Hewitt's looking office, where he met many people, among them Mr. Hall, who had been sent to the Bureau, and was very enthusiastic over western Canada.

At Belfast Again. Spending some days at Belfast, he worked in connection with the office and looking agents, and sent out a number of people set sail for Canada.

McArthur Agency. On the evening of April 11, Mr. Fletcher went to Belfast at the request of McArthur's looking agency, and interviewed some thirty people, two of whom were sailing the week following. Mrs. McArthur has the Lion Line agency, and also an agency for sending out young women to Canada. She has sent out, in 1921, 127. By request, he went back to Coleraine, and again interviewed large numbers at Caldwell's looking agency. A number from there intend coming this spring. Among the number, Mr. Jewell, who is very much interested and who is sure to invest a considerable amount of money in the Edmonton district.

Market Day at Managh. The next point visited was Managh, as it being market there a good day's work was done, and he started out for Cavan on Market Day. He had success in meeting the people and distributing literature. Next Market Day he was at Belvoir and after working in that field returned to Dublin at the request of Wells and Huggins, looking agents. This firm was very courteous and gave him every assistance. Next he went to Kingscourt on Market Day again, and spent the day interviewing the crowds and distributing literature. Then from Kingscourt to Dublin, where in Brunswick Hall, some 30 people met him and received literature. These people intend coming to Canada this spring.

Returns to Canada. Coming back to Belfast on April 25, he managed to get a little rest before sailing on the 26th but those two days turned out to be the busiest of the whole trip.

On the return trip he was 16 days coming from Belfast to Montreal, being 4 days aboard in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The passage was rough, but Captain Evans of the Lake Manitoa made comfortable. In closing Mr. Fluker said: "I arrived in my home town, Port Saskatchewan on the 17th of May, and was never gladder of anything in my life than to be in Sunny Alberta once more."

RESTAURANTS MAY SELL CANDY

And Ice Cream on Sunday—
Judge Morson's Decision in Toronto Case.

Toronto, Ont., May 20.—"The conviction will, therefore, be quashed, but this being a test case, applied to all restaurants and eating-houses."

This is the final sentence in Judge Morson's judgment delivered this morning on the appeal of John Behrns against a conviction under the Lord's Day Act, for selling ice cream and candies on Sunday.

This reason for coming to this conclusion, the judge explains as follows: "It is to be noticed that the appellant in his evidence said he did sell candies and oranges as part of his ordinary business, and was not conducting a restaurant. The only question then for my decision is, whether the sale of candies and oranges by the appellant was a part of his ordinary business, or whether the calling of a restaurant-keeper—and in deciding the point I was asked to decide as a test case applicable to all restaurants and eating-houses."

More Than a Candy Shop.

"It is quite clear if the appellant kept a candy shop and not a restaurant, the selling of the candies on the Lord's Day would clearly be an offence under the act, a candy shop not being a restaurant, a work of necessity, and, therefore, not exempt."

"I judge from the uncontradicted evidence that the appellant was a bona-fide restaurant keeper and sold, amongst other things, candies and oranges. It has not been proved that the appellant in this case kept a candy shop as contended by the respondent, and I must, therefore, treat him as a restaurant keeper only, who keeps for sale to his customers, amongst other things, candies and oranges, with which to supply their various wants, and it must be the customer and not the appellant who decides what these wants are."

A decision by the late Judge McDougall in the Albert case, and one by Judge Morgan in the Meyers case, were cited as proving that ice cream and candies were foods and that the selling of them on the Lord's Day by a restaurant keeper was not an offence.

No Matter Where Eaten. In reply to the contention of Mr. Behrns that because the candies and oranges were not eaten on the premises, their sale on the Lord's Day was an offence, Judge Morson says that such a definition of a "restaurant" would be too narrow. "It is a restaurant keeper who offends in selling contrary to the act, and not the customer in eating."

"I can, therefore, come to no other conclusion," says the judge in closing, "that candies and oranges may be sold on the Lord's Day by a bona-fide restaurant keeper, as part of his ordinary business, or calling, without any penalty, under either the old or new Lord's Day Act, and that the appellant in this case did not commit any offence. In so concluding, I have not lost sight, I trust, of the necessity for the just and proper observance of the Lord's Day and I do not think my conclusion will in any way interfere with it. I agree with what the late Lord Keston, C.J., said in Rex vs. Young: 'I am for the observance of the Sabbath, but not for Pharisaical observance of it.'"

SLEEPING CAR CON'S. GRAFT.

Resulted in Imprisonment for Two Months—P.R. Pressed.

Associated Press Despatch. Montreal, Que., May 20.—J. Crozier, the sleeping car conductor, who was arrested at the instance of the C.P.R., and who pleaded guilty to a charge of appropriating for his own use money collected from passengers payment of sleeping car fares, was sentenced by Judge Choquet to a term of two months' imprisonment.

In passing sentence the judge lectured the prisoner severely on the seriousness of the offence, which, he pointed out, in addition to being an act of theft, was also a breach of the trust placed in an employee by his employers, and stated that only on account of the prisoner's youth and previous good character was he giving so light a sentence. The judge concluded by expressing the hope that the sentence he had passed would be a warning to others in whom trust was reposed, and intimating that those who were guilty of similar offences in the future would not be dealt with as leniently as was the prisoner.

RALPH CONNOR ON ATHLETICS

Says Church Should Take Interest in Sport and Politics.

Winnipeg, May 20.—Quite an inspiring address was given last night by Rev. C. W. Gordon at the monthly supper of the Knox Young Men's Club, George Davis presiding.

Dr. Gordon described in his facile manner the great change which had come over the attitude of the church generally towards recreation and athletics. It was not so long ago that the church not only refused to do anything towards developing the athletic side of the young people, but actually looked quite askance at their games. Gradually, however, all that had been changing, until today, the young people looked to the church's hearty co-operation in their sports.

The church had made the discovery that its own spiritual work could be better advanced amongst its youth by giving financial and moral support to legitimate games and recreation.

Church and Politics. It was the duty of the Church of Christ to exert its influence in the realm of sport and to vent, as far as possible, the growth of a commercial spirit in the nation's games. It was their duty to foster a healthy atmosphere and high standards amongst all who took part in manly sport. In this connection, the doctor spoke eloquently of the work done by the Canadian Y.M.C.A.'s.

These institutions had done a great deal towards preserving the high ideals of amateur sport, and it only for that their deserved recognition and encouragement.

In politics, too, the church had rightly or wrongly held too much aloof. He saw no reason why young men could not discuss political questions with profit to themselves and to their country. He thought the church should encourage this habit of discussion. As a matter of fact, it was the duty of the church to do this, for the young men who were up to its duties perhaps politics would be purer. Young men's clubs like that of Knox Church, could be a great factor both in maintaining a pure atmosphere in sport and in politics.

A PRE-SEASON BALL PREDICTION

Baseball of the Past and Present

Fans Have a Line on Calgary and Lethbridge From Their Practice Games.

The dogsters in the Canada Western League have been scratching their canines vigorously in an attempt to get a pre-season line on the merits of the four teams comprising the league. Edmonton is the only one of the bunch that is outside of the game. While the bunch won all their practice matches, but the quality of their opponents is more or less uncertain, unless the defeating of Moscow may be considered something more than an outlier in the season put it over hauled, and the article of ball bite battle out is sufficiently fair for the Canada Western League. With Lethbridge and Calgary it is different. Both these teams played Winnipeg, and the Peguete beat them both. The Edmonton fans know Winnipeg, and they gather that in Winnipeg beating Lethbridge 4-0, and Calgary 3-0. Calgary looks to have it on Lethbridge. It must not be overlooked, however, that Lethbridge was without three of their best men in the Winnipeg game. Something more than a line on the bunch had to be made to the limit in the first to beat the Regina amateurs 7-1 in an eleven-minute game, and in the second 3-0, but only getting four runs and six hits. It is significant either the fact that Regina has an amateur team which is almost on a par with the professional article, or else Calgary is very much to the best. Judging from this it is not surprising that the game is a difficult task, but the line that the dogsters have put it from be facts as certified. This is how the teams should finish up the season: Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Calgary, even up.

BREAKING INTO BASEBALL.

How Clarke Griffith and Napoleon Lajoie Started.

Clarke Griffith broke into professional baseball in 1898. His debut was made at Milwaukee. He was a little black-haired type, seven years old, and with a pair of keen, piercing eyes. The players on both the Milwaukee team and the club that was to pitch against him at the idea of such a youngster as Clarke having the audacity to try to break into such fast company, and after had quite a hard time at his expense. Griffith was given a cast-off uniform that had originally been worn by a giant, and as Clarke admits, after he got into that uniform and wrapped it around his diminutive form, one could see nothing of him but his feet and his head. The opposing team made very merry with the little fellow, telling him that they were going to send him back to the bushes, and so on. At first, Clarke says, he was so nervous that he thought he would have to flunk at the pitching game, but when the entire team began to kick him his right gave way to anger, and the lightning spirit returned to his little fellow. The more they jostled him the angrier he got, so that when he took his place the firing line his head was cool, but in his heart he burned a deep feeling of vengeance. What he did to that fresh lot of ball players has long been a matter of baseball history. For Clarke fielded with that deceptive slow ball the way he won the game by the score of 16 to 1.

Lajoie was in a Dream. No one would ever suppose that the doctory Napoleon Lajoie was ever possessed of flunking nerves, yet when Larry made his professional appearance in baseball he was as frightened a person as one could expect to find, particularly in a big, husky ball player. Lajoie got into the game at Fall River, Mass., in 1896, and, strange to say, he felt not the slightest sign of nervousness until the ball was in the air. The more they jostled him the angrier he got, so that when he took his place the firing line his head was cool, but in his heart he burned a deep feeling of vengeance. What he did to that fresh lot of ball players has long been a matter of baseball history. For Clarke fielded with that deceptive slow ball the way he won the game by the score of 16 to 1.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS. Major Delmar, 160 lbs., was sold to A. B. Brock for $12,000. New York for $12,000. He also purchased George C., $4,500 for $10,000.

SUPERMAN WON CLASSIC EVENT

Ken's 3 Year Old Easy Winner in Brooklyn Handicap Yesterday.

New York, May 30.—Through a series of lines of cheering thousands, Superman, the sturdy three-year-old son of the great Commando, carried the colors of James R. Keene and ridden by Jockey Miller, dashed under the wire the winner of the Brooklyn Handicap this afternoon, over a course fetlock deep in mud at the Gravesend race track. Twenty-five thousand people saw the mud-splashed Keene horse held back until the stretch and then sent out in front to win in decisive fashion from a field of eleven starters. Beaten light, ridden by Jockey Lowe, was second, a length behind Superman, and Nealon, carrying the colors of C. E. Durnell, was third. Superman covered the course of a mile and a quarter in 2:00.

Improvements Made. As the years go by many improvements have been made in keeping with a growing public sentiment. For example, rowdism and profanity on the ball field have no longer tolerated, nor is the clownish "coaching" any longer in favor, although in the past it has been many a game. Attempts on the part of local enthusiasts to "trap" an opponent's costume, but hardly to the extent they prevailed a generation ago, and the cry of "You're out!" given the more frequently than of yore. It is to be regretted that no means has been found to summarily suppress this species of disorder. Toward and upon the extreme, it is also an offence to the better behaved players who have to listen to it, and moreover, it encourages the players in insubordination.

The King of the Diamond. Since "Father" Chadwick invented the game of baseball, the pitcher has been the dominating figure of the game. In the early days the pitcher depended on his accuracy and speed, but with the invention of the curved ball, speed and accuracy did not count in importance. Gradually, however, skillful batters learned to recognize from the motion of the pitcher's arm, and as time went on, and this knowledge added to their experience of a particular pitcher enabled them precisely to calculate where the ball was coming. Occasionally a man would appear who had perfect mastery of all variations of the pitching and today the ideal toward which pitchers aim is control, speed and curves.

Headwork Makes a Pitcher. It is headwork that makes the great pitcher. Unless he can size up the batsman, know his weakness, and play for it, he will never be a great pitcher. Some men cannot hit a high pitcher. The weakness of the batsman who can hit all alike is as rare as the batsman who can make every ball man. Time was when the crack pitcher or distinguished himself by striking out more than the opposing batters; nowadays he is satisfied to strike out a man here and there, confident that the fielders will put out the majority of the batters who connect with the ball. Lack of good support in the field is simply heart-breaking to the pitcher. The great batters are those who have his nerve, and a note-worthy fact is that it is apt to make him a man here and there, confident that the fielders will put out the majority of the batters who connect with the ball. Lack of good support in the field is simply heart-breaking to the pitcher. The great batters are those who have his nerve, and a note-worthy fact is that it is apt to make him a man here and there, confident that the fielders will put out the majority of the batters who connect with the ball.

Improved Pitching. Fielding has wonderfully improved in recent years, and now mere ability to hit the ball hard is, in itself, not much more valuable than unassisted speed on the part of the pitcher. The great batters are those who have his nerve, and a note-worthy fact is that it is apt to make him a man here and there, confident that the fielders will put out the majority of the batters who connect with the ball. The great batters are those who have his nerve, and a note-worthy fact is that it is apt to make him a man here and there, confident that the fielders will put out the majority of the batters who connect with the ball.

How to Keep in the Game. Among ballplayers there has been a marked improvement in respects other than the mere technique of the game. They can no longer dissipate and hold their position. Competition is keen, and there are a hundred young amateurs pressing up to take the place of the old pros when he begins to "slow up." A man cannot drink and sport around all winter and play first-class ball in summer. He must be temperate, of necessity, while the season lasts, and he has found it profitable to keep fit between seasons. Rather a peculiar feature of professional baseball, as far as we know of it in Canada, is the absence of betting on rival teams. One might attend the games for years and never hear a dollar wagered. To the casual observer it is a pity that a "hook" ball town, but it has yet to see the distinction of being a good town for a losing team.

Baseball. That rain saved Morrison's Miners a triumph. It's a sure thing if there had been a game yesterday. White's Walkers would have put it on the coal-heaver. A double-header will likely be played today. The Edmonton team will be Louie first base; Wesler, second base; Grimes, shortstop; Baker, third base; Wheeler, left field; Adams, center field; Burns, right field; Ford, catcher; Crist, pitcher.

Ed. Knowlton will umpire the Edmonton-Lethbridge series. Lethbridge's battery for the game today will be Fogarty and Rogers. That Calgary bunch must be feeling joyful when they think of that Rocky game. The cow-punchers got four, but all of it was needed to win, winning the game from Regina's team of amateur boys by a score of 2-0.

Bert Orr, the Regina pitcher, who held the Calgary team down to two runs, is one of the best pitchers in Western Canada. He is about the best amateur pitcher in Canada and that he has not been in the professional game years ago is an account of his own decision. He has at different times been signed with professional teams, but at the finish decided to stay with the amateur proposition. He made his reputation with Virgil. While on the Virgil team the pitched couple of games with the Calgary team five years ago against Casbrook and was away with both of them, though he stacked up against them, but they were very fast in those days. That series was one of the most interesting in the history of Calgary baseball in Calgary, Alberta.

The Calgary-Medicine Hat game was also postponed yesterday for the same reason as the Lethbridge game. Today both teams are to play for as the atmospheric conditions are favorable.

WHEAT AREA WILL BE INCREASED

In Alberta This Year. C. W. Rowley Says the Acreage Will be Enormous.

Calgary, May 20.—C. W. Rowley, who has returned from a trip through a considerable portion of the wheat district of Alberta, states that he believes Alberta will be the only western province to increase its wheat area this year. He speaks enthusiastically of the splendid appearance of the fall wheat and says the farmers are feeling confident of having an exceptionally heavy yield. All over the wheat country can be seen signs of prosperity. Every little way great steam plows are busy breaking up the virgin prairie and at every little station can be seen one or more of the great plows awaiting unloading. A great tract of unbroken land will be turned this year, and next year the increase in the wheat acreage will be enormous.

UNIFORM TEXT BOOKS IN CANADA

Ministers of Education in the Various Provinces all Favor Approval

The publication of a national series of textbooks for the schools of all the provinces of the confederation is the proposal which the various ministers of education are considering. The object is to secure uniformity and cooperation, and to this end steps have been taken to call a conference some time this year.

The two western provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan, have already agreed to secure uniformity by uniting in a series of readers. The contract for publishing which has been awarded to the Toronto firm, is now being advertised for tenders, and before long a new series of textbooks will be authorized by the department of education in Ontario.

AUSTRALIAN IMMIGRATION

Government of Commonwealth Does Not Land, itself to Active Movement

Winnipeg, May 20.—William W. Connolly, who is staying with his wife at the Royal Alexandra hotel, and who is the manager of a well-known business house in Sydney, N. S. W., was interviewed this morning, in making a tour of Canada and the States preparatory to a visit to the old country.

The marvelous development of the wheat stock in this country, and he saw the explanation of the strenuous immigration policy of the Dominion government.

In Australia the country is held back in the matter of wheat and natural resources (lack of men to take up farming, and so it will know, very little money is spent in London, Eng., in the conduct of an aggressive immigration campaign by the commonwealth authorities.

Such as come have not the encouragement which their long journey deserves, and while public opinion is coming to the view that a change must be made, at present the federal government, conscious of the labor support with which they were enabled to take office, are reluctant to shift to the movement like the Dominion authorities at Ottawa.

Federal treatment is universally supported in Australia, which proves that Mr. Deakin's immigration settlements of his commonwealth rightly in taking to attempt a state of the recent Colonial Conference for it.

OBSTRUCTED THE LAW.

New York Insurance Men Held for Bail Box stuffing.

New York, May 20.—Magistrate House today held George Schuchman, manager of the International Policyholders' Committee; Charles E. Starup and C. F. Carrington, assistants to Schuchman, for trial in the Court of General Sessions, on charges of violating that section of the Penal Code, which makes it a conspiracy to obstruct the process of the law. In a lengthy opinion, Magistrate House, after hearing the evidence, says that he believes the three defendants conspired to obstruct the due process of the law by changing ballots cast in the recent election for officers of the New York and Mutual Life Insurance Companies.

WHEAT WILL GO STILL HIGHER

Outlook for Further Advance in Price is Bright. Crops in U. S. Will Be Small

Associated Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, May 21.—The position of the wheat market has strengthened with the passage of another week. It is not that the prices are relatively so much higher, though there is an advance, as that the outlook for still higher values has improved. The week has seen some very sharp advance, and almost equally sharp retreats, but the summing of the whole shows an advance. There has been no such thing as a steady rise, but there has been made of a bad situation, and when the market has been made for these things the position of wheat is one of exceptional strength.

The report of H. W. Jones on the winter crop is the most conclusive aid at the same time the most unfavorable that has yet been made. It indicates that Canada will barely raise enough this year for her own requirements, while the continental demand promises to be the heaviest for many years. Should Mr. Jones be correct the wheat crop of the United States will be the smallest since 1904 (last year), when it was down to 552,000,000 bushels, and when export to Great Britain dropped to 25,400,000 bushels.

So far as the outlook of the Canadian West is concerned, it has decidedly improved during the past week. An enormous amount of ground has been seeded, and though the work has not been so well and as extensive as usual, the ground is in such good condition that it will make up for some defects in planting if seed time is only followed by warm rains. The quality of seed, as a whole, being used this year is better than that used last year and will have a higher percentage of germination. This is mainly due to the work of the seed strain branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the local seed grain fair given at Regina for favorable conditions from now on the Canadian West should reap a crop that will not only meet local requirements but leave a goodly margin for export.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

"Bileads a Certain Cure."

"I had chronic constipation for five years," says Mrs. M. O'Brien, of Agassiz, Toronto. "It brought on headaches and dizzy spells, and robbed me of health and vitality. I spent a lot of money in trying various useless remedies. At last I tried the right one—Bileads—and they cured me." One of the finest scientific papers in the world, Science, Sept. 2, 1907, says of Bileads in this connection: "They cure constipation without causing griping, and do not cause unpleasant effects, as other purgatives. They are, delicately, pleasant, indigestible, biliousness, heartburn, headaches and female ailments all disappear before a short course of Bileads. All dandruff and skin eruptions on the face or back, for instance, for price."
